either i will find a way, or i will make one.
-Sir Philip Sidney

I met a sad princess
with a beauty so rare
the voice of an angel
and long golden hair
she said, "I have jewels fine gowns and gloves
but my life is empty
for I've no one to love"

A wandering prince
from somewhere afar
looked for his love
in his dreams and the stars
"the voice of an angel
she'll have," he did say he'd bring her joy
turn her nights into day

One morn on his journey
he heard a sweet sound
his heart told him follow and she would be found
then he saw her and knew that here was the one with the voice of an angel
his search was done

SHEPHERD SPOTLIGHT

*There's been a sheepish seduction cast over the youngest princess of Arcadia.
But just who is Musidorus?*

Armed with a crook and a love for poetry, we meet Musidorus among his flock of sheep, blushing madly (we can only assume, dear reader, that we just missed an encounter between the plain Philoclea and the lowly shepherd). Musidorus, playing as a delightful half-elf bard in the quest to save Arcadia, sat down with us for a brief interview.

TB: Musidorus! So lovely to meet you!

M: Thank you so much for having me!

TB: So tell us, what's motivating your journey to help save Arcadia?

M: My love for the kingdom and the people of Arcadia. I care about the people I'm surrounded by and I would do anything to show them.

TB: People like a certain princess?

M: (Nervously chuckles) Maybe...

TB: Well, since you're a bard, is there a song that motivates you to write love poems?

M: "Can't Fight This Feeling" by REO Speedwagon.

TB: And lastly, what's a song you play for your sheep?

M: "Pepsi on the House" by Peach Pit. My sheep (the Sheepettes as they're lovingly known) love it!
